

Seat assignments

Please find a seat in the section corresponding to your Student Block "number".

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

1

Agenda

- Photos
- Class representatives
- Tour of course Web page
- Computing information
- Web review

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

2

Class Representatives

- 3 Academic Reps (Blocks A-B, C-D, E-F)
- 2? EngSoc Reps
- 1 MathSoc Rep
- WEEF Rep
- Class Treasurer?
- Yearbook?

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

3

Tour of Course Web Page

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

4

NEXUS account

If you have not yet accessed your Engineering NEXUS account, do so as soon as I release your computer.

- At the login screen, click on "Scratch"
- Answer the questions as prompted
- The scratch facility will then tell you what your userid will be, and your account will be available shortly.

Your e-mail address will be user@engmail.uwaterloo.ca

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

5

Disk Quota

All of your personal files are stored on ecf1e1, which is mounted as drive N on your Nexus account.

Your base quota on ecf1e1 is 50MB; your disk quota may be higher during terms when you take compute-intensive Engineering courses.

You have 4MB of permanent storage on Engmail. This quota can be temporarily exceeded (2 wks) if you receive a large attachment. Mail exceeding 20MB will not be delivered.

You can monitor the status of your disk usage:

<http://www.softeng.uwaterloo.ca/Current/computing.htm#engquota>

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

6

Print Charges

There is a charge for printing to any of the university's IST printers. These charges are automatically deducted from your print account when you print.

You are given $5 of printing funds in your 1A term.

You can use the WATCARD reader located outside the ECUSC (E2 1308A) to transfer money from your WATCARD to your Laser Printing account.

You can check the status of your print account <http://xas.uwaterloo.ca>

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

7

Math UNIX Accounts

Math Faculty account
userid@student.math.uwaterloo.ca
2MB base quota

CS account
userid@student.cs.uwaterloo.ca
100 MB base quota

See the UNIX Consultants (MC 3011) for your password

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

8

Print Charges

You need to set up a separate CAS printing account to use any of the self-serve printers in the Math and Computing building.

Go to CHIP (MC 1052) to set up your CAS account.

<http://www.math.uwaterloo.ca/mfcf/services/printers.html>

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

9

Two E-mail Accounts

You have two e-mail accounts:

userid@engmail.uwaterloo.ca
userid@student.cs.uwaterloo.ca

Students, professors, and administrators may send you e-mail to either account.

You must read e-mail from both accounts!

It's easiest if you set up your e-mail accounts so that mail sent to one is forwarded to the account that you read the most often.

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

10

SE Labs

You have e-mail waiting for you in your user@engmail account, telling you the locations of the first-year SE lab and the SE reading room, and the combinations for those rooms.

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

11

Passwords

- If you need a Quest/UWdir userid and password, you can get one from <https://ego.uwaterloo.ca/%7Euwdir/SignOn.html>
- If you have forgotten your Quest password, and you know your Nexus/email password, you can use <https://ego.uwaterloo.ca/%7Euwdir> to get up and running again.
- If you've forgotten your Quest password and your Nexus/email password, you must visit ECUSC or the IST CHIP for help.
- If you've forgotten your UNIX password, you must visit the UNIX Consultants

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

12

Help!

Engineering Computing User Support Centre (ECUSC) in E2-1308A

Math Faculty Computing Facility (MFCF) Consultants in MC 3011

More information is on the SE, Math, and Engineering
computing web pages:

<http://www.softeng.uwaterloo.ca/Current/computing.htm>

<http://www.math.uwaterloo.ca/mfcf>

http://www.eng.uwaterloo.ca/~eng_comp/index.shtml

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

13

Web-based Review

There is a web-based review due Mon. Sept. 20 at 17:00

IPE: Chapter 1

Dupré: 15, 23, 29, 80, 93, 139

You can access the review via the course web page:

<http://www.student.cs.uwaterloo.ca/~se101>

You must have a Quest/UWdir userid and password to access your account.

Log out when you are done working on your review.
Don't hit "return" when answering fill-in-the-blank questions.

Fall 2004

SE 101 Lab #1

14